

Virtual Tour

Thurgood Marshall College

Developing the Scholar and the Citizen

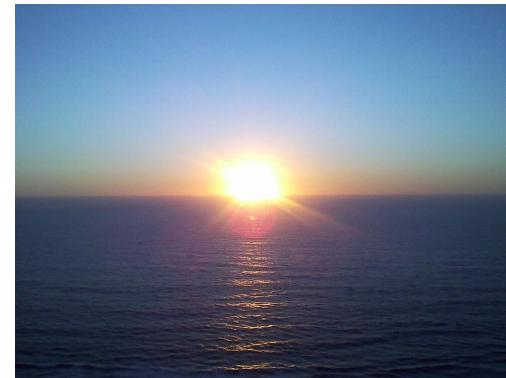

Above is the amazing Mural in one of Marshall's best study spots, Ocean View Lounge. It is located right below Ocean View Terrace (OVT). Besides studying, there are many awesome events and meetings that go on here.

On a typical day (above), students usually hangout with each other to unwind and talk about their day.

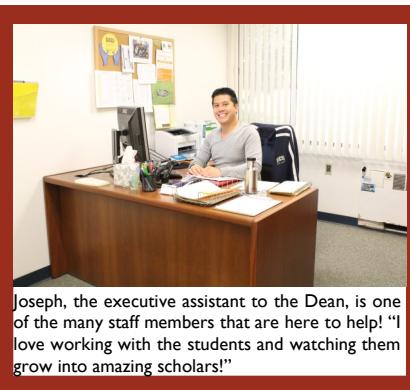

RIDGE WALK! This is a common route for students on their way to class.

One of the best features of living at Marshall College is being so close to the beach. Pictured above is one of the amazing sunsets you can see from the cliffs! OVT also has outside patios that allow you view the beach while you eat.

We hoped you enjoyed your virtual tour through Thurgood Marshall College! There are many resources and fun activities provided by TMC to help you grow and develop into a citizen and scholar. We strive to become your home away from home!

Joseph, the executive assistant to the Dean, is one of the many staff members that are here to help! "I love working with the students and watching them grow into amazing scholars!"

You can always come to the Thurgood Marshall College Administration Office for any academic or personal conflicts you may have. The staff is always here to help you!

This tour brought to you by Out-of-State and International Student Outreach.

"None of us got to where we are solely by pulling ourselves up by our bootstraps. We got here because somebody... bent down and helped us pick up our boots."

This is the inside of Marshall College's very own dining hall, OceanView Terrace! There is a wide variety of food to choose from. From salads to sandwiches to soups and daily specials like stir-fry, pasta, and quesadillas, OVT has food for any and all taste buds and appetites!

Below Goody's Burrito shop, you will find its Market! There is a wide variety of snacks to choose from that will fulfill any cravings. It is also opened late for those long nights of studying.

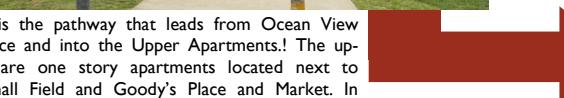

Here we have a fellow Marshall student and employee of Goody's, Ryan Morimoto. He enjoys working at Goody's because he "gets to make the customers happy and enjoys the friendly environment."

Above we have the inside of the Residential Life Office. Here, you can have any questions or concerns that you may have about your living situation answered. Pictured above is one of the many friendly student staff members at the ResLife office, Angela. "The staff here made me feel welcome from day one. Marshall has definitely become my home away from home."

This is the pathway that leads from Ocean View Terrace and into the Upper Apartments.! The uppers are one story apartments located next to Marshall Field and Goody's Place and Market. In addition to the uppers, Marshall also offers housing in the Residence Halls, where first-year students tend to live. There are also the Lower apartments which are located near Fireside Lounge, as well as a quick walk to the center of campus, Price Center.

Another spot to eat at Marshall College is Goody's Place and Market. It is named after Thurgood Marshall's nickname "Goody." It is best known for it's fulfilling burritos and bowls. There is also a deli side that features a variety of sandwiches and a walk-up window for coffee drinks.
